"As you discover changing times, you must have the strength to endure. In these ever changing times, you must learn to stand all alone. As we learn to grow."-Earth, Wind, and Fire

Whom, then, do I call educated? First, those who manage well the circumstances which they encounter daily and who possess a judgement which is accurate in meeting occasions as they arise and rarely miss the expedient course of action; next those who are decent and honorable in their intercourse with all men, hearing easily and good-naturedly what is unpleasant or oftensive in others, and being themselves as agreeable and reasonable to their associates as it is humanly possible to be

Eurthermore, those who hold their pleasure always under control and are not unduly overcome by their misfortunes, bearing up under them bravely and in a manner worthy of our common nature, finally, and most important of all, those who are not spoiled by their successes and who do not desert their true selves, but hold their ground steadfastly as wise and sober minded men, rejoicing no more in the good things which have come to them through chance than in those which through their own nature and intelligence are theirs through birth

The hour when he too would take part in the life of that world seemed drawing near and in secret he began to make ready for the great part which he felt awaited him the nature of which he only dimly apprehended -James Joyci

further, let's be friends

Friends is a word we use beveryday.

Most of the time we use it in the wrong way.

Now you can look the word

but the dictionary doesn't know the meaning of friends:

and if you asked me you know I couldn't be much help.

because a friend is somebody
you judge for yourself.

you real cook

and some mistake your kindness for being a fool

We like to be with some because they're funny, others come around when they need some money forms we greve up with along the way:

and you're still real close to this very day.

Homeboys through the summer, winter, spring, and fall.

and there are some we wish we never knew at all

And this list goes on again

but these are the people we

My profound message to be conveyed here on this page of everlasting me

If I have learned one thing it is this: to feel. To feel is to live. So cherish all emotion. Emotion is what fills life and gives it color. Our song begins and ends on the same note.
